

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS COLLEGE 2021-2022 FINANCIAL AID TASFA/FAFSA Student Checklist

U.S. citizenship is not a requirement for most of the state programs but being a resident of Texas is. Texas law authorizes persons classified as Texas residents to pay in-state tuition, a rate of tuition that is lower for those classified as nonresidents. Section 54.052 of the Texas Education Code outlines specific provisions for determining whether a student enrolling at a public institution of higher education qualifies for classification as a Texas resident. Section of the Texas Education Code defines the information required to establish Texas resident status for eligibility to pay in-state tuition and to receive state financial aid.

TAFSA/FASFA students can compete for state funds from the following sources if they meet all of the requirements for each program:

- Texas Public Education Grant (TPEG)
- TEXAS Educational Opportunity Grant (TEOG)
- Some State Exemption programs, in addition to any available institutional aid
